

The Independence of X and Y

Motion/Forces that are perpendicular to one another do not affect one another.

Motion/Forces in the y direction do not affect motion/forces in the x direction (and vice versa).

Motion in a particular direction is only changed by forces in that direction.

